

Greg Humnicky

Greg Humnicky is best known for a long career as a top-notch athletic administrator after working as the athletic director at South Bend Clay High School from 1988 to 2008 and as secretary/treasurer and historian for the Northern Indiana Conference from 1994 to the present.

He also served on the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame board of directors from 2010-18 and currently serves on multiple Hall of Fame committee, including several years as chairman of the men's Silver Anniversary Team committee.

A 1964 graduate of South Bend Central, Humnicky earned a bachelor's degree from Purdue in 1968 and a master's degree from Indiana University in 1973. After college, Humnicky was a teacher and boys' basketball assistant coach at South Bend Central Middle School (1970-75), South Bend Adams High School (1975-82) and South Bend Clay High School (1982-88) while also helping run summer Purdue Basketball Camps from 1973-88.

Over the years, Humnicky has been a member of the IBCA, the Indiana Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association and the National Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association.

Humnicky was nominated for an IIAAA Distinguished Service Award in 2007, received the Sam Wegner Award from South Bend Schools in 2013 and was inducted into the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame as the Silver Medal winner in 2025. He is a life member of the South Bend Alumni Association, the Purdue Alumni Association and the John Purdue Club.

Humnicky and his late wife, Barbara, are parents to two adult children – Phil, a photographer in Washington, D.C., and Anna, attorney in Atlanta. Humnicky and companion Judy Gray have been together since 2021.
